

Tomasz Zganiacz – Secretary of the Supervisory Board

He is an engineer and MBA graduate. From 2009 he was the Director in the Ministry of Treasury in charge of capital market transactions and ownership supervision over financial institutions. He is an experienced and highly qualified manager with advanced knowledge of tools for restructuring, efficiency improvement, especially in financial management and investment valuation. Until 2009, before he became the CEO of the public listed development company Triton Development S.A., Mr. Tomasz Zganiacz was the Deputy CEO and CFO i.a. of the public listed company Arksteel, head of credit department at Societe Generale Bank, a researcher and a lecturer at the Faculty of Production Engineering of the Warsaw University of Technology, and was a participant in the National Investment Funds programme. Tomasz Zganiacz has been involved in many projects carried out by enterprises from various industries; cooperating with i.a. commercial and investment banks, brokerage offices and other capital market players. He has been in charge of finance management, preparation and implementation of investment projects and has co-authored development strategies. He has broad experience in managing commercial companies; among others, he was a Member of the WSE Supervisory Board. Currently, he is a Member of the Supervisory Board of PKO BP SA.